

Conjunctions and Prepositions: Fixing Punctuation, Word Choice, and Capitals

Hi Jordan! This worksheet was made just for you.

Directions: Read each sentence carefully. Identify the grammar word asked for, or rewrite the sentence with the correct punctuation, capital letters, or word choice.

Example:

Which word is the conjunction in this sentence?

Maya tested the bridge, and Noah wrote down the results.

A conjunction connects ideas or parts of a sentence. In this sentence, and joins "Maya tested the bridge" and "Noah wrote down the results."

Answer: and

1. Which word is the conjunction in this sentence?

The campers watched the stars and listened to the wind.

7. Which word is the proper noun in this sentence?

Saturn is the second-largest planet in our solar system.

2. Which word is the preposition in this sentence?

The map is inside the backpack.

8. Choose the best word to complete the sentence.

The flashlight was _____ the sleeping bag.

under but wow

3. Yes or No: In the sentence "Wow, that model rocket flew high!", the word "Wow" is an interjection.

Yes No

9. Choose the best conjunction to complete the sentence.

The team practiced passing, _____ they practiced shooting.

and under wow

4. Yes or No: In the sentence "Eli wanted to hike, but the trail was closed.", the word "but" shows contrast between two ideas.

Yes No

10. Rewrite the sentence with correct punctuation and capitals.

hey the experiment is starting now

5. Circle the sentence with correct punctuation.

Watch out the ball is rolling downhill!

Watch out, the ball is rolling downhill!

Watch out, the ball is rolling downhill

11. Which word is the preposition in this sentence?

The bird landed near the lake.

6. Rewrite the sentence with correct capital letters.

jordan and mia built a small bridge for the science fair.

12. Circle the sentence with the correct word choice.

The players were tired, but they finished the game.

The players were tired, under they finished the game.

The players were tired, wow they finished the game.

Conjunctions and Prepositions: Fixing Punctuation, Word Choice, and Capitals — Answer Key

Example: Which word is the conjunction in this sentence?

Maya tested the bridge, and Noah wrote down the results. A conjunction connects ideas or parts of a sentence. In this sentence, and joins “Maya tested the bridge” and “Noah wrote down the results.”

Answer: and

1. Which word is the conjunction in this sentence?

The campers watched the stars and listened to the wind. → and

2. Which word is the preposition in this sentence?

The map is inside the backpack. → inside

3. Yes or No: In the sentence "Wow, that model rocket flew high!", the word "Wow" is an interjection. → Yes

4. Yes or No: In the sentence "Eli wanted to hike, but the trail was closed.", the word "but" shows contrast between two ideas. → Yes

5. Circle the sentence with correct punctuation. → Watch out, the ball is rolling downhill!

6. Rewrite the sentence with correct capital letters.

jordan and mia built a small bridge for the science fair. → Jordan and Mia built a small bridge for the science fair.

7. Which word is the proper noun in this sentence?

Saturn is the second-largest planet in our solar system. → Saturn

8. Choose the best word to complete the sentence.

The flashlight was _____ the sleeping bag. → under

9. Choose the best conjunction to complete the sentence.

The team practiced passing, _____ they practiced shooting. → and

10. Rewrite the sentence with correct punctuation and capitals.

hey the experiment is starting now → Hey, the experiment is starting now!

11. Which word is the preposition in this sentence?

The bird landed near the lake. → near

12. Circle the sentence with the correct word choice. → The players were tired, but they finished the game.